IMPLEMENTATION

As the national voice for water resource managers, we ensure that the concerns of our members from all geographical areas are represented.

SOLVING Today's Water Management Challenges Together

Successfully solving water management challenges requires us to have a greater awareness and more sophisticated understanding of the issues at stake.

As the national voice for regional, state, and local water resources agencies, ICWP helps our members stay apprised of important policy issues and legislation with national reach.

POLICY

Our positions are governed by principle statements that inform our advocacy and policy implementation efforts.

COMMITTEES

We host three standing committees: Interstate Collaboration & Planning, Water Data & Science, and Legislation & Policy.

EVENTS

Our members directly contribute to our nation's water policies and legislation through face-to-face meetings with key federal agencies, annual meetings and conferences,

NETWORKING

ICWP offers numerous opportunities to learn, collaborate and discuss in order to ensure that our members' voices are heard at the federal and congressional levels.
